

Last week I enjoyed a production of Les Fausses Confidences by the 18th century playwright Pierre Marivaux. Like all Marivaux comedies, the play is about overcoming the obstacles preventing the union of lovers — a universal and perennial theme. The play was performed by Le Theatre Francais de Melbourne at the French Embassy.